The Seats of the Mighty.
A certain captain went calling upon the village belle. The old man kept a very vicious house dog, and upon the occasion of the officer's call the dog was untied. When the fearsome canine had finished with the captain the seat of the latter's trousers was missing. His brother officer, Joo-hing-ban about his predicament, asked if the girl was worth making his anatomy fit that fashion. The captain replied, "Maybe not, but I have always been willing to give up my seat to any lady!"—Judge.

Benefits of Walks.

Through a city walk in the open air, the hair may be made to grow, it is said, and thus as a result of improved circulation. The skin may be improved both in color and texture. If it is, in conjunction with this exercise, properly cleared. The figure may be greatly improved. These blessings, with the claims of Quakerism, are ready mentioned, ought to make any woman young or old, an advocate of this form of exercise.

Have Eye for the Future.

Do for yourself what you admire seeing the other man do. He takes time to get ahead. His mind is his most precious treasure. No pains are too much to bestow upon it. You watch him grow and admire his pluck. You even speak the word that boasts him. Why not apply his principles to your own life? Make the hours count. Take detours now that you may ride an easy road later.—L. A. L.

"When a man says 'Yes' to everything you suggest, stop suddenly some time and you'll probably find that he isn't paying much real attention to your remarks!"—Exchange.

Chinese Custom.

In China when a pupil is reciting his lessons he turns his back to the teacher, says an exchange. Over here he occasionally has to do that but it's not for recitation purposes.

Where Some Men Fail.

Moreover, some men give so much attention to their principles they don't have time to do real work.—Dallas News.

Tip for Mothers.

Horton Henshaw:—The way to keep a boy looking neat is to hand him, shake his feet, and give him sleep. He will be ready for anything.

Quaker's Name.

The society of Quakers received that name in 1651 because they made certain magistrates to "quake at the word of the lord."

Gentleman.

The original form of the word "gentleman" was Gentleman—signifying a convert to Christianity.

Daily Thought.

Let us consider the reason of the case, for nothing is law that is not reason.—Sir John Powell.

Quebracho bark, one of the chief exports of the Argentine, will tan leather at least three times as fast as the bark of the oak or the hemlock, and in less than ten years fortunes have been made by investing in quebracho lands. Nearly 1,000,000 tons of the wood or the dry extract, are sent to the United States and Europe annually. The growth of the tree is of the slowest and it is estimated that two years is required for it to reach maturity.

Whistling for Wind.

Everybody is familiar with the old superstition of sailors that, to bring a favorable breeze, they must whistle during the calm. From the remotest times there seems to have prevailed a belief that libation or sacrifice would placate the storm spirits and induce them to permit the vessel to proceed unmolested on its course. Russian sailors have been known to pour brandy and water over a rocky promontory in order to obtain a wind favorable to their designs.

Where All Could See.

My most embarrassing moment was experienced at an evening church wedding a short time ago. As we were late most of the seats had been taken, so it was necessary to go almost to the front pew. I sat down and calmly removed my hat, when to my mortification my escort asked if I thought I was at the movies. The hat was hurriedly adjusted, but I felt self-conscious during the entire ceremony.—Chicago Tribune.

Gold's Great Power.

One of the funny things about human nature is the tender affection we all have for money, the way we work to get it, and then, the way we talk about everyone who has succeeded in getting a lot of it.

Torchon Laces.

Torchon laces, popular in America, were first made in Chefoo, China, twenty-five years ago when missionaries taught the Chinese lace-making. Chinese now compete with Belgians in making laces.

Mystery Solved.

Her eyes were red and she explained that she had been to a wedding. "I always cry more at a wedding than I do at a funeral"—it's so much more uncertain.—Boston Transcript.

Only about twenty-five out of every 1,000 elephants in India can pass the test for courage which are put to them before they are used in tiger hunting.

Wise Indeed!

He is a wise man who can on occasion put up or shut up—but he is a wiser man who can put up and shut up.—Savannah Morning News

Menace to Locusts.

Locusts in Algeria have found a dangerous enemy in a fly which follows them and lays its eggs where they lay theirs.

It is said that the term "carpet bager" was first applied to political adventurers in America. It was designed to describe a needy political adventurer who wanders over the country pandering to the prejudices of the ignorant in order to try to get into office. He was so called because he was regarded as having only enough property to fill a carpet bag.

North American Moose.

The best moose hunting in eastern North America is found in the Canadian province of New Brunswick. The best in the United States is in Maine. Moose are believed to be holding their own if not increasing. Ernest Thompson Seton, the naturalist, estimates that there are about a million moose in North America.

To Start a Clock.

The stopping of a clock may be due to clogged wheels. Thoroughly saturate a piece of white cotton with kerosene oil and place it inside the clock case. Probably at the end of a week the cotton will be black with dust that has been loosened by the fumes of the oil and the clock will run as well as ever.

Dainty Hobby.

When commercial travelers in olden days went their rounds and received orders they generally presented a miniature set of doll's furniture and china tea or dinner services to the children of the house. One of the quaintest bits of this "miniature" furniture is a set of doll's furniture, a grand model.

Business Is Business.

Old Hardleigh (to the matrimonial agent)—There is another point I'd like to have settled. I am living in the country. My intended must be shipped to me. Are your terms f. o. b. or do you pay the freight?

Disease Caused by Tree Tapping.

A Dutch scientist has found that the disastrous brown bast disease of the rubber tree is caused by the present method of tapping, and not by a mold infection, as has previously been thought.

Fruitless Cause of Worry.

We understand that it is unhealthy to eat between meals, but we are not going to worry about that until we get some meals to eat between.—Dallas News.

Masculine Contempt.

Small Richard asked his sister to roll his sleeve up for him and as she didn't do it neatly he remarked, "Gee, and you expect to be a wife yet!"

Well Fixed for Eves.

Spain has more than 5,000,000 fig trees, of which about one-fourth are in regularly planted and cultivated orchards.

Analogous.

Spending a dollar before it is earned is like eating today the egg that is to be laid tomorrow.

CONSULTING THE SENATE

In objecting to Senator Fall's resolution relating to the Mexican situation, President Wilson expressed himself in part as follows: "I should be gravely concerned to see any such resolution pass the Congress. It would constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice which might lead to a very grave confusion in regard to the guidance of our foreign affairs. I am confident that I am supported by every competent constitutional authority in the statement that the initiative in directing the relations of our Government with foreign governments is assigned by the Constitution to the Executive and the Executive only. The advice of the Senate is provided for only when sought by the Executive in regard to explicit agreements with foreign governments and the appointment of the diplomatic representatives who are to speak for the Government at foreign capitals."

In response it has been shown from the Constitution itself that the President "shall have power, by and with the consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur"—a very brief statement of the fundamental principle less explicit than is desirable and which therefore lends itself to varying interpretation as to the precise extent of the Executive's powers particularly in the matter of the initial steps toward the making of treaties. In response it has also been shown that in connection with the Oregon question in 1846 President Polk sent a message to the Senate reading in part as follows:

"I lay before the Senate a proposal presented by the Envoy Extraordinary of Her Britannic Majesty for the adjustment of the Oregon question. I submit this proposal to the consideration of the Senate, and request their advice as to the action which in their judgment it may be proper to take in reference to it. In the early periods of the Government the opinion and advice of the Senate were often taken in advance upon important questions of our foreign policy. General Washington repeatedly consulted the Senate and asked their previous advice upon pending negotiations with foreign Powers and the Senate in every instance responded to his call by giving their advice to which he always conformed his action. This practice, though rarely resorted to in later times, was in my judgment eminently wise and may on occasions of great importance be properly revived. The Senate are a branch of the treaty-making power. The Senate are, moreover, a branch of the war-making power, and it may be eminently proper for the Executive to take the opinion and advice of that body in advance upon a great question which may involve the issue of peace or war."

The open-minded reader will hardly be inclined to follow the example of Theodore Roosevelt and place Polk on the list of weak Presidents, for he was wise to ask the advice of the great leaders of the Senate in his time at a moment when war with England was more than a possibility. It is notable, however, that this was a confessed revival of an early practice "rarely resorted to in later times" (Polk's own generation.) In our own generation it has been resorted to more rarely still, if at all. Certainly the usual practice for a long time has been for a President to initiate a treaty and for the Senate later to examine and either accept or refuse to do so. President Roosevelt even carried the policy of initiative to the point of actually putting a treaty through the Senate into effect six years ago. This generation has not only abandoned the expansion policy of the previous generation but has also interpreted the brief and inexplicit language of the Constitution to its own advantage.

The profiteers are unwise to permit an exception of grindstones while everything else keeps on going up, for the people will find it easier to shun their wares against the day of reckoning.

THE RAILROADS.

The American railroads are scheduled to be turned back to their owners at the end of this month, says the New York Sun. Government operation has piled up their operating expenses and cut down their traffic has cleaned out their treasuries and has left them, or a great majority of them, powerless to do their work of transporting the people and the business of the United States. As matters stand today, in truth, the American railroads face going back—the good and the indifferent—dead broke. And railroads cannot operate without cash any more than they can operate without coal. Either the roads must go back to their owners in the new year with some governmental provision for paying their bills or they must break down. If the American railway system breaks down American industry and American business must break down under it. Then American bread and butter will be at stake. Congress has no more important work to do for thenation in the next few days than to save the American railroads system from bankruptcy. In its immediate consequence nothing else could be so important. Until a permanent plan can be worked out for the railroads Congress must provide the financial means to keep them operating. This first aid to the roads cannot wait.

Awaits Reclamation.

The southern swamp lands have grown, rather than diminished, in area since the Civil war, because of the decay of rice growing. Many old rice fields have now fallen under the dominion of the swamp. But the lands of this swamp country has always been wild although the adjacent uplands have been cultivated since colonial days. The swamps have always been a region of romance and legend. They have sheltered pirates and smugglers, peopled with bears and strange wild animals from foreign lands escaped off stranded vessels. No private citizen or organization has ever had the strength or courage to try to conquer them. Here and there a fort has been made in the edge—nothing more. The placing of these wild lands under the rule of the plow, like the conquest of the western desert, is a task for the whole strength of the nation.

Mystical "Forty."

The Children of Israel were in the wilderness forty years, and they spent forty days in the Promised Land for forty days in advance of their own going. Moses was in the Mount of the Law forty days. Isaac was forty years old when he was married, and so was Esau. Eli was judge of Israel forty years. Goliath defied the army of Israel forty days before David killed him. Solomon reigned forty years. Elijah fled forty days from Mount Carmel to Mount Horeb. Jonah gave the city of Nineveh forty days' warning of its impending destruction. Jesus fasted forty days, and appeared to his disciples at intervals for forty days after his resurrection. St. Paul five times received forty strokes with the scourges.

Tea Made Harmful.

Tea, "the cup that cheers but does not inebriate," must in fact also be reckoned among the very serious and deleterious intoxicants, though of course only when grossly misused. In Ireland especially, and also in the United States, there are many persons addicted to the excessive drinking of tea which is not brewed as it should be, but is permitted to steep and soak for hours and even for days, until some very harmful ingredients are extracted from the leaves, the effects of which upon the nerves and brain are in the end disastrous. There are thousands of occupants of insane asylums whose minds were wrecked by such indulgence.—Exchange.

Island in Uphill Fight.

Urk is a small speck of an island that lies in the middle of the Zuyder zee. It is old—so old that it bitterly resents the sea as a newcomer. While the Zuyder zee advances, Urk stubbornly barricades itself with dykes and fights for its existence. For hundreds of years Urk has been on the defensive, with the Zuyder zee steadily winning ground. For a while the sea was satisfied merely to harass the island by constantly breaking through its dykes, but recently it has resorted to a deadlier form of warfare. It is gradually withdrawing the once abundant supply of fish, the island's main support.

PROUD OF HER FAMOUS SCNS

Massachusetts Has Sent Out Many Who Have Done Great Things in the World.

Not to be too insistent and grossly Massachusetts and her "Old Colony" should always die their claims to the honor of producing men that are doing the new work of the world, as well as celebrating forever the Pilgrim Fathers, writes The Listener in the Boston Transcript. It is no accident, no mere coincidence, that both the pioneers of transatlantic air transportation should be Massachusetts men: the first man to navigate an airship from America to England was Commander Read, whose boyhood's home was South Hanson Mass., and the first engineer to carry the big street traffic of New York city under the Hudson river is Clifford M. Holt, born at Somerset, Bristol county thirty-six years ago. Both upper air and subterranean problems have brought laurels to boys of the Old Colony. To be sure, Commander Read's education was completed at Annapolis Naval academy, and Mr. Holt's at Harvard university, where he graduated in 1906. But there must be something in the stock and something in the system which brings it to pass so often that when great things have been done, or great things are to be accomplished, and the door is necessarily forced into the spotlight of the press, and his antecedents are eagerly examined, the little old significant abbreviation, "Mass.," is apt to appear in connection with some little town as his birthplace.

Tampering With Traffic.

"Why are you so silent of late?" "I'm trying an economic experiment," replied Mr. Penwinkle, "but I'm afraid it isn't going to work. I thought that by limiting the supply of my extremely valuable thoughts I could create a more pressing demand for them."

HAS GREAT FAITH IN COCONUT

German Who Has Tried It Declares It to Be the Ideal Food for Sustenance of Man.

One of the strangest characters in the world is Auguste Englehardt, a young German who lives on the island of Kabakon, in the German New Guinea territory. He exists entirely on the coconut, and sleeps on a bed of sand. Englehardt is a singularly handsome man of about thirty-five, possessing great wealth and a charming personality. He is known as the "Apostle of the Coconut," on account of the doctrine he teaches that the coconut is the original food of man, and should continue to be so, as all other foods are responsible for the bad passions in the heart and mind of man.

The "Apostle" claims to have over 500 disciples in America, and now the war is over he intends to leave his island home and come back to the old world and proclaim his teachings. He is also a "sun worshiper," living entirely in the open air, and adopting the simple dress of the natives, consisting merely of a "lavulava," or loin cloth, and when in full dress that is when he receives visitors, this attire is completed by the addition of a wrist watch and a walking stick.

It is expected that in the near future artificial gas for heating purposes will be substituted largely for natural gas in the Pittsburgh and other districts, where a considerable shortage in the supply of natural gas has developed. This was the prediction made at a conference held recently under the auspices of the Public Service Commission in Pittsburgh. The Philadelphia company which has been a large supplier of natural gas for many years, it is stated, is now prepared to supply 7,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas a day, and expects in the near future to be able to supply 30,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas a day.

FOLLOW THE CROWDS TO TOYLAND

TOYLAND is crowded every day with eager shoppers and it really looks like a good old fashioned Christmas. The ingenuity and capacity of the Toy makers has been taxed to the limit to satisfy juvenile America. Here are to be found representatives of almost everything in Toyland from Horses to Dogs—Dollies short and Dollies tall—Guns that shoot—Clowns and everything imported right from the home of the children's good friend—"SANTA CLAUS". Don't fail to bring the Children to visit Toyland.

COLONIALS WIN IN FAST BOWLING GAME

FIRMS BID CLOSE ON STATE WORK

The Charleroi Colonials defeated the Brunswick five in a fast bowling match last evening, in which Kuhn starred for the victors, with May-Thomas Arrigo of Charleroi, put in a close second. The Colonials are rated as one of the fastest five-men teams in the valley, and there is an open challenge to any team within a reasonable distance. Earlier in the evening the Colonials defeated the California five by a large score, the game being played at California. The score of the Colonial-Brunswick game was as follows:

In the recent opening of bids for the improvement of a portion of a State Highway in Fayette City, Thomas Arrigo of Charleroi, put in a bid at $14,755.50, while the next lowest bidder was Lawrence S. Schultz & Son of Fredonia, N. Y., who made a tender of $14,751.75 or $3.75 less than the Charleroi contractor. The highest bid was submitted by Petriello Brothers of South Brownsville, whose figures were $15,065.00. Of course it is not assured that the contract will be awarded at the figures submitted by any of these contractors, but the bidders show how closely the different firms bid on road work.

IS LOW BIDDER ON BIG ROAD CONTRACT

Theophile Gautier.

Gautier was a great genius in his own way and for 40 years was one of the most interesting and conspicuous figures of the literary world. His peculiar claim to fame lies in his unique style as a novelist, represented by his masterpiece, "Madame de Mantes," a work which has been distinguished by the French Academy. "Madame de Mantes" is one of the most beautiful novels ever written, and it is a masterpiece of the French language. The author's style is so perfect that it is a pleasure to read his work. He was a great genius in his own way and for 40 years was one of the most interesting and conspicuous figures of the literary world.

In the bids for road work opened by the State Highway Department at Harrisburg on Tuesday last, Thomas Arrigo was the lowest bidder on a proposed improved road in Perry County, Pa. His figure was $101,608.00. The length of the road proposed to be improved is 15.823 miles. The specifications for the improvement call for a concrete road with a width of 24 feet, a base of 18 inches and a sub-base of 8 inches in the center. Mr. Arrigo has not yet decided whether to accept the bid or not.

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK

"I can thank Mr. O'Brien, a neighbor, for my recovery from severe colic attacks and stomach trouble that nearly forced me to cross the river the Jordan. I spent thousands of dollars in the past nine years for doctors and medicine and would have died but for my neighbor's advice to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I wish I had the money back I spent for other medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrh as mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At drug-gists everywhere.

The reformers who "may ask Congress to put a tax of $500,000 a pin on whiskey" evidently believe in keeping abreast of these high price times.

The limit to the right of free speech is reached when the speaker calls for the overturning of our government and incites to murder.

An industrial democracy is the ideal, but, as Vice-President Marshall puts it, the first need is an industrious democracy.

J. Salter Hansen, who prevented an international clash by putting up $500 to bail out Consul Jenkins, is a pacifist to some purpose.

It doesn't take an eloquent orator to move them to tears these days. All they need to do is to look at the market quotations

CHINESE WOMEN STUDY HEALTH

Three Doctors Return From America to Begin Active Health
Campaign Among Women.

ALL AGENCIES COMBINE.

American Y. W. C. A. Will Support
Women's Part of Chinese Health
Campaign as Part of World Service Program.

As a result of the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, held during September and October, Chinese women are to have a far-reaching health program.

Dr. Ida Kahn, Dr. Li Bi-Cu and Dr. Dau, three of China's half hundred women physicians, who attended this conference, are to take an active part in promoting this health program for women which will be the share of the Y. W. C. A. in the big health movement in China.

The funds for establishing these health centers, for demonstrations of how to care for babies, for health lectures for the women, for babies' dispensaries and for a general educational campaign, will be raised by the American Y. W. C. A. as part of its program of world service for women and girls in 1920.

Dr. Ida Kahn, in a recent appeal to modern Chinese women said, "Let our women of education in Peking and elsewhere gather themselves together to work for the schools, Red Cross and Y. W. C. A., and everything else which bests the betterment of the country, instead of staying at home to play poker and 'sparrow,' and going out to attend endless dinners, tea parties and dances."

"Let us rally our forces and help the ship of state to move safely. One person cannot accomplish much, but our or two hundred millions of women can work wonders. Let us go back to a more Spartan-like simplicity of living, and let us build up social service until every city in China is sanitary, every section of the town has its proper schools, and every child, whether boy or girl, is sent to such schools. True social service brings democracy in its train, and we who are citizens of a new republic can help to make it truly great by preaching and living democracy all the time. Why not learn to do our household duties, deeming it effeminate to be waited upon by maids and slave girls all the time?"

"The status of women in China while leaving much to be desired, still is quite hopeful when we consider that she is just emerging into the sisterhood of the nations. Our men can depend upon us to bear the burdens of the day, for nowhere is there a more industrious, diligent and persevering womanhood than in China."

Dr. Kahn is lecturing in this country on the needs of her fellow country women. In the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Educational Campaign which plans to acquaint people with all phases of Y. W. C. A. work in the United States, South America, China, Japan, India and Europe. This educational campaign will be followed by an active effort to raise the $3,000,000 needed for service for women throughout the world.

CHINESE WOMEN HAVE FINANCIAL ABILITY

They Carried Y. W. C. A. Campaign
"Over the Top."

Much has been said about the honesty and skill of the Chinese business man. The world has neglected to mention the financial ability of Chinese women. They proved this ability in the last financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Tientsin.

Ordinarily three weeks are allowed in which to raise the budget by subscription after the finance committee has decided upon the sum necessary to carry on the work of the coming year. The Tientsin campaign was carried on entirely by Chinese women and broke all records by going over the top in ten days with a large surplus over the budget.

Busa into which British troops have entered without opposition was the capital of Bithynia when Trajan appointed Pliny the Younger to govern the province. It was from Busa, then Prusa, at the foot of Mt. Olympus that Pliny wrote the letters to Trajan which are among the most interesting of his voluminous correspondence. It is said that Busa owes its existence to some scheme of Hannibal's, but of the Roman and Bithynian city hardly any trace remains though Busa boasts of very fine old Mohammedan mosques. The city of Asia Minor is situated in lovely country, rich in fruit trees and watered by countless springs, and supports a manufacture of silk which should develop unhindered now that the lethargy of Turkish rulers no longer weighs on the city and its inhabitants.

It's Upkeep that Costs.

Experts have just completed an estimate for the high cost of maintaining a rat. If you have a rat on your premises, he is costing you $1.32 a year, according to these experts. They find that one pair of rats is directly responsible for 630,000 more rats in three years, the rat being a strong believer in the Roosevelt theory of large families. The damage in the United States in one year caused by these rodents is over $100,000,000. Over $15,000,000 in property losses is occasioned each year from fires started by rats gnawing the electric wires and gas pipes. The rat also is accused of spreading disease. An intensive campaign to demobilize the rat army is now in progress.

Ornithological Delights.

In all excursions to the woods or to the shore, the student of ornithology has a certain advantage over his companions. He has one more resource, one more avenue of delight. He, indeed, kills two birds with one stone, and sometimes three. If others wander, he can never go out of his way. His game is everywhere. The crowing of a crow makes him feel at home, while a new note of a new song drowns all care. Audubon, on the desolate coast of Labrador, is happier than any king ever was; and on shipboard is nearly cured of his seasickness when a new gull appears in sight. One must taste it to understand or appreciate its fascination.—John Burroughs
